Thursday, March 18, 2021
Friday, March 19, 2021

About the Program:

AVT Day will include presentations on developing a higher level of literacy, reading achievements for children with HL who use listening and spoken language. Also covered will be evaluation and treatment of SSD after implantation and concepts of identity, culture and modality.

AUD Day topics will focus on amplification and audiological management of CMV, pediatric fitting consideration for non-surgical bone conduction hearing devices, advances in technology for CIs and HAs, as well as outcomes and treatment for single sided deafness.

Learning Outcomes:

After completing this course participants will be able to:

- Summarize the possibilities and constraints offered by different social science concepts for thinking about deaf children and their families' experiences
- Identify strategies to address areas of challenge in reading for children with hearing loss including strategies to develop reading fluency
- Summarize areas of strength and challenge in reading development for children with hearing loss who use listening and spoken language
- Explain how to isolate the implanted ear from normal hearing ear for auditory training
- Analyze the progression of hearing loss in various cases of congenital CMV
- Discuss the importance of early identification of congenital CMV and the knowledge gained from early intervention outcomes
- Discuss criteria for pediatric CI candidacy
- Single Sided Cis – Outcomes
- Describe the “Fourth Grade Reading Problem” and discuss at least two ways to avoid it
- Describe the information required to fit transcutaneous bone conduction hearing devices (BCHD) to children
